

DISTRICT NAME SELECTION BALLOT

The newly restructured district on the northeast side of the Prairielands Council will use a youth-involved process to select the new name of the territory. District Chairman Travis Mains announced the District Name Election Process at the District Committee meeting on Jan. 10th. Members of the district committee chose a slate of four possible names for the new area. Each pack, troop, and crew of the District will conduct an election within their unit to pick their choice for the district name. The top vote getting name selection from the packs, troops, and crews will be chosen as the new district name. Ballots are due by February 29, 2012.
